

Undergrads: Apply to be an Archival Scholar!

Awardees will develop independent research projects that draw upon online primary resources, such as rare books, manuscripts, archival collections, music, photographs, diaries, and organizational records, found in the University of Pittsburgh Library System's Digital Collections website - digital.library.pitt.edu

i If selected, you'll:

- Receive a $1,000 stipend.
- Learn about archives, manuscripts, and rare books.
- Join a community of researchers who receive archival and research support from professional librarians and archivists.
- Participate in three virtual workshops and a spring term presentation.
- Contribute content to an Archival Scholar Research Awards (ASRA) Omeka exhibit site that showcases your research and the collections.

Application and award requirements at:
asundergrad.pitt.edu/research/awards

Talk to us about your research interests and ideas!
Make an appointment with the Archives & Special Collections Department - library.pitt.edu/ask-archivist for assistance in navigating collections and identifying a research topic.

This year's Archival Scholar Research Awards (ASRA) program will be virtual only and designed to support research, scholarship, and creative activity using the ULS Digital Collections.